Sunday Worship – Sundays in Pentecost

We continue with the longest season of the church year – the season of Pentecost. During this season we look at the work of the Holy Spirit in the life of the church and in the life of the individual. It is a time to be both invited and challenged to continue allowing the Holy Spirit to guide and direct our life. One of the Holy Spirit's role is to create faith and mature us in a growing faith as long as we live. We never fully arrive or mature which makes this work with the Holy Spirit a constant growing and exciting time. May you worship with us while the Holy Spirit becomes our teacher and guide.

Stewardship Thought

Giving is an important part of being a Christian. There are many reasons to give, and the following will help people understand the importance of giving:

Giving helps break the power that money can have over us. By nature, we are selfish people, and money can become overly important to us. Jesus warns us in Luke 12:15: "Watch out! Be on your guard against all kinds of greed; a man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions." We are to possess our possessions rather than let them possess us. Through our faithful giving, we are empowered by God to overcome our desire to hoard what he has given to us.

My Letter to the Congregation: "The BARRIERS of Effective Disciplemaking"

We continue our series on Disciplemaking – the command of Jesus to “go, make disciples, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to obey all that I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:19-20). This month we look at some of the barriers which hinder effective disciplemaking. Whether hidden or in plain sight, barriers can cripple our disciplemaking efforts before they really start. Sometimes we encounter them and sometimes we can create them. It's crucial for an effective disciplemaker to acknowledge and understand where they exist, how to overcome them, and how to avoid building even more barriers along the way.

Here are some of the barriers as defined by some leading Christian leaders:

“We live in a day where it means almost nothing to be a Christian. According to research, almost four out of every five Americans identify themselves as Christians. Four out of five. But, in this group of self-proclaimed Christians, less than half of them are involved in church on a weekly basis. Less than half of them actually believe the Bible is true. The overwhelming majority of them don't have a biblical view of the world around them.”

“I don't think people even understand what discipleship is. (Ideas: practice spiritual disciplines, leading someone to Christ, helping people become mature in Christ.) Everyday people don't know what it looks like.”

“Disciplemaking requires putting time into someone's life when we're already busy with family and friends. Also, we can spend a lot of time with an individual and then that individual ends up going astray and you're thinking, 'Man, I just wasted hours and hours and hours of investment.'”

“The three greatest barriers to discipleship in American churches are: consumerism, individualism, and materialism.”

“The way we do church doesn't focus on disciplemaking. It's rather on entertaining people.”

“The biggest barrier that you are going to face is your commitment and your time.”

“People just want to attend church, just be constantly taught and not put themselves into the situation to pour their life into other people.”

“Most of us have not been discipled. We ourselves have never been disciples in a holistic sort of apprenticeship model.”

“If we don't disciple, then the culture sure will, and it's doing a good job of it. You cannot build a church on consumers. They desert you at a moment's notice because they have no commitments beyond their own needs.”

"Maybe one of the reasons so many people in the church aren't making disciples of all nations is because they are not really disciples in the first place."

"I think the greatest barriers to discipleship are the two core expressions of human sin, and they are fear and laziness."

Future topics will be:

August – "The 'What' of Effective Disciplemaking "

September – "The Habits of Highly Effective Disciplemaking"

October – "The Process of Disciplemaking"

November – "The 'How' of Effective Disciplemaking"

Seeking to remove my own barriers,

Paster Steve

Doug Witte moved to accept the agenda as presented. Jan Puls seconded. Motion carried.

Approval of Minutes

Doug Witte moved to approve the minutes as presented. Warren Bennett seconded. Motion carried.

Financial Report

There was no report given because there were no bank statements at the moment. Pastor Steve will send out a report when Greg Moen has them done.

He touched on the confirmation and baptism that took place on Pentecost. He also shared about the coming seniors of 2020, and the intention to go through a course called 'Sticky Faith'.

Pastor Steve has completed his online Disciplemaking course and is looking forward to putting what he has learned into action with the help of the discipleship committee.

Pastor Steve has vacation from July 3-7, and July 18-23.
